

Marlite Wood Veneer Samples

“Type” Samples

Marlite Wood Veneer samples are “Type” samples only and are intended to illustrate what is considered typical appearance for a particular species. These Type samples will show style of cut (rift, flat cut, quartered, etc.), give an idea of grain configuration or pattern and an indication of the general hue of any veneer species. Because the Type samples submitted will rarely be from the same flitch of veneer as an order, and due to the natural characteristics of real wood, it is impossible to sample a reliable representation of the color, texture and characteristics of any veneer that may be provided for an order.

“Live” Samples

If your project requires veneers of a particular color range and appearance (i.e. custom stain or specific cut) or if the veneer needs to harmonize with materials supplied through other sources, then Marlite can provide “Live” samples for approval. Live samples are submissions from active and available veneer flitches that can be reserved for your particular order. Still, due to natural variations throughout a log, the final material provided for your order will often vary slightly from the Live sample. Marlite will provide Live samples only after receipt of an order, as these flitches can only be held a limited time.

Production

Marlite Wood Veneer panels are produced using book matched veneer faces and are intended to be randomly installed, unless otherwise specified. The veneer used throughout an order will be either from the same flitch or from various harmonizing flitches, dependent upon the specie and size of the order.
